

Memories for the Generations

Champagne Aquatech Pools of Florida builds more than custom-crafted gunite pools; the company builds lifelong enjoyment. Owner Michael Manley explains, "We build top-quality pools that provide a breathtaking backdrop for all of life's memorable moments."

Before construction begins, Manley listens to his customers, finds out what they want, what they like and how they plan to use their new pools. He then incorporates their ideas into the design process. Once options are agreed upon, Manley and his highly skilled team go into action to produce the project exactly as promised, right down to the last detail. "Our vision for each and every pool is to exceed our customer's expectations," says Manley.

Champagne Aquatech Pools is a proud member of exclusive Aquatech, Society of Pool-Building Professionals, an invitation-only group that sets high standards for the industry. Aquatech builders regularly attend seminars to advance their knowledge, studying topics that include construction, service, management and financial control. The company uses the most up-to-date technology in its designs and features, producing gorgeous, one-of-a-kind poolscapes.

Manley and his professional craftsmen have earned the company a reputation for being a premier business. In fact, many of the company's projects have been awarded with gold awards from the Association of Pool & Spa Professionals and other societies. Champagne Aquatech Pools has been named a Master of Design by an industry trade magazine and has been honored as one of the top pool companies in the country by another.

Manley and his staff see pools as an opportunity — for what is desired and for what can become reality. The builder knows that poolside moments are meant to be created and captured to trace the passage of one generation to the next. ♦

Glowing softly in golden light, this elegant spa treatment with its circle of light offers more than respite from a busy day: It adds a touch of class to an already gracious setting.

The best way to appreciate this perimeter overflow pool is from above. A tall spillway from the fireplace descends into illuminated water. This focal point, which is complemented by a semi-circle beach entry, contrasts with the deck surface's deep hues.

The Caribbean called: One of its resorts is missing! The tropical tone of the freeform lagoon is brightly coordinated with color and lights, while the landscaping provides a breathtaking accent.
